

ERIN CAUGHEY

web developer
& data reporter

Hello.

As a journalist and self-taught front-end developer I am capable of, and dedicated to, learning new skills through my work. I've contributed to Alfred I. duPont-Columbia, Edward R. Murrow and Society of Professional Journalists award winning projects. I've reported in Italy and Ireland. And was part of the Journal Sentinel's 2017 Knight-Temple Table Stakes team working to strategize our digital future with other regional news organizations. See more details ▶
